Bulgaria: The National Healthcare Insurance Agency of Bulgaria included on its list for 2003 the complete reimbursement of important musculoskeletal areas as spinal injuries and diseases, arthroscopic surgery, fractures of the hip and femur and congenital anomalies.

This is an important step forward in reforming the healthcare system in Bulgaria.

The Bulgarian NAN has done much to achieve this success, using every opportunity during 2002 to raise public awareness of the importance of bone and joint conditions utilizing the framework of the Bone and Joint Decade 2000-2010 including: new editorial publications in the Bulgarian periodical journals of orthopaedics, traumatology, rheumatology, neurosurgery, etc.; outlining the BJD-initiative at the national conferences of rheumatology, spinal surgery and traumatology; and having interviews broadcasted through national television and radio, etc.

For more information please contact Dr Panayot Tanchev, NAN coordinator, e-mail: dr_ptanchev@abv.bg

- Enlarging and strengthening the BJD network across the country, making it a true nationwide network
- Communicating with decision making politicians and authorities in health care the most recent knowledge of musculoskeletal research
- Communicating with the lay public regarding prevention and treatment of musculoskeletal disorders (main emphasis in 2002 on: osteoarthritis and osteoporosis)

Some activities during 2002:

- 5 research groups received an award of 2000 Euros each at the VII National Days on Musculoskeletal Disorders held in October. A total of 34 research groups submitted their papers to this nationwide competition, held for the third time commissioned by the NAN Steering Committee.
- An unbiased authority, the Health Promotion Center, made a positive evaluation of BJD activities in Finland.

Such an evaluation was required to ensure continued financial support by various sponsoring organizations.

Iran: This year the Annual Rheumatology Research Center Conference was dedicated to Osteoporosis. A 2-day symposium was organized by the Rheumatology Research Center in Tehran and the Bone and Joint Decade Iran National Action Network, on February 6-7, 2003.

For the first time in Iran, a 3-hour conference was scheduled for the public simultaneously during this Congress. Nearly 400 patients and their families participated on this conference, which was repeated on the second day of the seminar. The patients' seminar had 3 lectures with the following topics:

- What must we know about Osteoporosis?
- The role of nutrition for prevention and treatment of Osteoporosis.
- Exercise for prevention and treatment of Osteoporosis.

It ended with a round table discussion answering patients' questions about their problems on osteoporosis and hearing their suggestions. Separate booklets on the 3 topics were prepared for patients and distributed to all participants.

The first Patients' Osteoporosis organization in Iran was founded during this congress by people who participated in the public conference. The name suggested was "Association of Patients with Osteoporosis". Around 300 patients as well as over 100 doctors registered for this association. This was supported by BJD Iran NAN.

As a symbolic action, all the participants were hosted with milk instead of coffee or tea during break times, and with yoghurt and yoghurt drink instead of salads and coke during the lunch time.

For more information please contact Prof. Farhad Shahram, NAN coordinator, e-mail: shahram@neda.net or visit www.boneandjointdecade.org /Iran

Israel: The annual congress of the Israel Orthopaedic Association took place on the December 4-5, 2002 in the presence of distinguished guests from USA, Canada, France and Macedonia.

In the business session the Bone and Joint Decade objectives were discussed in a lecture given by Dr. Chaim Zinman, NAN Coordinator, e-mail: c_zinman@rambam.health.gov.il

New Zealand: Measurement of the burden of musculoskeletal disease in New Zealand was one of the primary objectives for the BJD in New Zealand. It was considered important to have some baseline information on which to measure the success of the BJD in New Zealand. The Ministry of Health has recently activated a National Health Survey on musculoskeletal disease. It is a major survey and the results will not be available for another twelve months, but the BJD is hopeful there may be some data forthcoming that can be used to further the objectives of the Decade.

Please find an extensive Newsletter on www.boneandjointdecade.org /New Zealand or contact Dr Geoffrey Lamb, NAN coordinator, e-mail: geoff.lamb@clear.net.nz or Mr Kim Miles, Executive Director, e-mail: kmiles.nzoa@paradise.net.nz

Slovak Republic: National congress of Slovak Orthopaedic and Traumatologic Society with international participation was held on January 30-31, 2003 in Bratislava. A BJD lecture was given. For more information Prof. Frantisek Makai, e-mail: ortopkl@internet.sk

Slovenia: Secretary of the State at the Ministry of Health, Mr Dorjan Marušič, MD, announced on February 14, 2003, that additional programs will be financed during 2003 for elective hip surgery. This is one of NAN Slovenia's successes for shortening of waiting times.

In collaboration with Liaison office of the WHO in Slovenia, Dr. Radko Komadina, NAN coordinator, is preparing a BJD meeting for South-East Europe, with assistance of the Ministry of Health. Please contact Dr. Radko Komadina, NAN coordinator, e-mail: sbercdi@guest.arnes.si

Sweden: In Sweden, various educational activities regarding musculoskeletal conditions are planned to take place during 2003, starting in Stockholm in May with a lecture program for general practitioners about osteoarthritis of hip and knee joints.

A survey based on questionnaires regarding the extent and content of education of medical students in musculoskeletal disorders is ongoing and data collection continues. The results of the survey will be presented later this year.

The Bone and Joint Decade will be promoted at national meetings and conferences at various locations in Sweden during 2003.

For more information please contact Prof. Björn Rydevik, NAN coordinator, e-mail: bjorn.rydevik@orthop.gu.se

Turkey: BJD is included in 1st Congress of Osteoporosis & Osteoarthritis that will be held on April 30 -May 4, 2003 in Antalya/Turkey. See www.osteoporosis-arthritis.org for further information or contact Dr. O. Sahap Atik, NAN coordinator, e-mail: atik@tr.net

UK: Over 100 Members of the UK Parliament have signed a parliamentary petition calling on the British government to make Arthritis a healthcare priority. The petition, or Early Day Motion as it is known, was tabled by Labour Member of Parliament Roger Berry and has received support from all three major British political parties.

It is unusual to succeed in getting over 100 signatures on a parliamentary petition.

It is an achievement which reflects ARMA, Arthritis Care and their members' commitment to campaigning for the Arthritis Community. The high number of signatures also demonstrates that members of the British Parliament are aware that the needs of patients in the UK are not being met, a message ARMA and its member organisations will take to the UK government. It also shows willingness by many to work locally to make sure people gain access to appropriate services from Healthcare Trusts. This is a successful step in a long-term strategy to raise awareness amongst national and local policy-makers of the need for high quality service and access to treatments for people with musculoskeletal conditions. For more information please contact Dr. David L Scott, NAN coordinator, e-mail: david.l.scott@kcl.ac.uk
